

Scotland's Futures Forum: Summer Programme 2018

Scotland 2030: Work in a Gender Equal Country

Tuesday 5 June, 6pm to 7.30pm, the Members Room, with light refreshments to follow

What would Scotland in 2030 look like without a gender pay gap? What would have to change about our lives, both at work and outside?

With input from Jo Salter of PwC on their "Workforce of the Future" project, and an expert perspectives from Jo-Anne Chidley, founder of Beauty Kitchen and Women's Enterprise Scotland ambassador, and Dave Devenny from Fathers Network Scotland, this debate continues the Futures Forum's investigation into Scotland's culture and society in the future.

Chaired by Gillian Martin MSP

Scotland 2030: Future Learning and Schooling

Tuesday 19 June, 5.45pm to 7.45pm, Committee Room 1

The Goodison Group in Scotland continues its exploration of schooling and learning in the future. Bringing together representatives from business, government and education, this event will take a look at primary education, with Cathy McCulloch from the Children's Parliament outlining her vision of a rights-based primary school.

Chaired by Sir Andrew Cubie, Scotland's Futures Forum director.

Autonomous Vehicles: Seminar Series

Are autonomous vehicles the future? How well developed are they already, what is likely to happen next, and how can we exploit the opportunities they present? Two panel discussions will look at the opportunities for Scotland and for Glasgow in particular, with leading industry experts providing insight into how our lives might change.

Opportunities for Scotland: Thursday 21 June, 1pm to 2pm, Committee Room 2

Panel includes Iain Forbes, Head of the UK Government Connected and Autonomous Vehicles Centre, and Kate Carpenter from Jacobs, an expert on people's attitudes to autonomous vehicles.

Chaired by Gail Ross MSP, Deputy Convener of the Rural Economy and Connectivity Committee

Opportunities for Glasgow: Wednesday 4 July, 5.30pm to 6.30pm, City Chambers, Glasgow

Panel includes John Brown, Chief Information Officer for Arnold Clark, and Ollie Hart, an expert in city infrastructure from Jacobs.

Chaired by Ivan McKee MSP
