

Scotland's Futures Forum: Spring Programme 2019

Scotland 2030: Housing and Ageing

Wednesday 23 January, 1pm to 2pm, the Scottish Parliament

With an ageing population, Scotland's housing needs are changing. Showcasing new research produced by the University of Stirling and Heriot-Watt University, this seminar will consider our aspirations for housing for older people, and what we have to do now to achieve them.

Co-chaired by Sandra White MSP and Andy Wightman, Cross-Party Group Conveners

In conjunction with the Scottish Parliament Cross-Party Groups on Housing and on Older People, Age and Ageing | Registration (Eventbrite account not required):

www.eventbrite.com/e/scotland-2030-housing-and-ageing-tickets-53650840107

Scotland 2030: Leadership in Education

Tuesday 12 March, 5.45pm to 7.45pm, the Scottish Parliament

The Futures Forum and the Goodison Group in Scotland continues their exploration of schooling and learning in the future. Bringing together representatives from business, government and education, this event will focus on leadership in education and feature a contribution from Graham Donaldson.

The seminar will build on previous events from which scenarios of education in 2030 have been developed. The scenarios and more information about the project are available on the Futures Forum website: www.scotlandfutureforum.org/scotland2030-future-schooling/

Chaired by Sir Andrew Cubie, Scotland's Futures Forum director

Email ScotlandsFuturesForum@parliament.scot to register your interest

Scotland 2030: A Citizen's Income?

Tuesday 2 April, 6pm to 8pm, the Scottish Parliament

With predictions of social and economic upheaval brought about by technological and environmental change, could citizen's income reduce poverty and increase people's control over their lives? How affordable is it as a policy?

Using new research from Edinburgh and Heriot-Watt Universities, this event will consider whether citizen's income is a realistic solution for the future.

Chaired by Alex Rowley MSP, Co-Convenor of the Cross-Party Group on Basic Income.

Registration (Eventbrite account not required):

www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/scotland-2030-a-citizens-income-registration-55559922223

Scotland 2030 Programme

These events form part of the Futures Forum's Scotland 2030 Programme, an exploration of Scotland's culture and society and our aspirations for 2030 and beyond. All are open to the public.

Find out more about the programme, including videos and reports of previous events, at our website: www.scotlandfutureforum.org/scotland-2030-programme/

More information: www.scotlandfutureforum.org & @ScotFutures